Compensation is available of course for the live-in position though that will depend on how far you are willing to go to satisfy our needs. Any limits? We haven't given much thought yet to the question of per visit payments, but for the live-in salary we were thinking of starting at R180,000 per year with substantial performance incentives for exceptional service. Also included are free full time room and board whenever you wish to use it, though you're not obligated to spend full time here. We can even included a standard personal employee benefits package with health and dental coverage if you want?
